

Allowing passengers to use cell phones during flights is just asking for trouble. Good way to help out terrorists, don't you think?